FREEDOM FASHION

FASHION

WITH A

CAUSE

Anuradha Das stands as a beacon of hope in the realm of social work, having experienced firsthand the profound impact of unity and collaboration in driving positive change. Motivated by an unyielding commitment to fostering a meaningful difference in society, she embarked on a multifaceted journey to extend her influence through various creative avenues.

THE JOURNEY BEHIND

LIT

FREEDOM FASHION

From the pages of her thought-provoking books to the screens of her dynamic movie productions, and the stages of her awe-inspiring fashion events, Anuradha has continually sought innovative ways to spread awareness and inspire others to join her in the movement for a better world.

Belle Events, the brainchild of Anuradha, operates on the principle that every action should serve a purpose. With a firm belief that anything capable of transforming people is worthy of pursuit, Belle Events takes up the mantle of responsibility to conceive and organize events that leave a lasting impact on society.

Complementing her event management endeavors is "My Precious Life," an organization spearheaded by Anuradha to provide counseling and support to individuals grappling with emotional trauma and psychological issues such as stress, anxiety, and depression.

From the fertile ground of My Precious Life, sprouted Freedom Fashion, an initiative that seamlessly blends fashion with social activism.

Through the collaborative efforts of Belle Events and the GDMR Foundation, Freedom Fashion's flagship event, LIT (Live in Triumph), has evolved into an annual spectacle, featuring multiple fashion shows spotlighting critical topics such as suicide prevention, domestic violence awareness, autism advocacy, and unmasking depression.

Anuradha's influence transcends the realms of social work and extends into the realms of motivation and literature. As a motivational speaker and author, she shares her insights and experiences to inspire others to take action and effect positive change in their communities.

Even in the face of adversity, such as the challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, Anuradha remained steadfast in her commitment to serving others. Alongside her team, she provided daily meals to hundreds of people and distributed blankets to the homeless during harsh winters in India.

Anuradha Das is more than just a social worker; she is an inspiration to many—a testament to the transformative power of empathy, creativity, and collective action in shaping a better world for all.

Cultivating Connections

Hailing from Chicago, Illinois, I was brought up in a nurturing family with Catholic values. With over two decades of experience in the hospitality sector, I've honed my skills as a bartender, waiter, and manager. My career has spanned various industries, always with a focus on management and customer relations. I thrive on interpersonal connections, finding joy in meeting new people and forging business relationships.

My aspiration to be an entrepreneur led me to Las Vegas in 2007, seeking a fresh start and warmer climes after a lifetime in Illinois. It was here, in 2008, that I connected with Lyndy Ellis from Maine. Our online meeting blossomed into a lasting partnership, and she relocated to join me. Our network expanded significantly in 2012 after meeting Yvette Auger at a networking event, marking the beginning of many enduring friendships and business connections.

Cultivating Connect

Bartending to BUSINESS

That same year, we launched our first venture, Rent A Bartender, catering to events with professional bartending services. This endeavor grew over five years, establishing strong ties within the community. In 2016, family duties called us back to Chicago, where we cared for my mother until her passing in May 2023. Throughout this period, I maintained my Las Vegas connections and began conceptualizing a comprehensive event services business.

By October 2023, we had settled into our new home in Vegas, rekindling relationships and expressing gratitude for the bonds formed since 2012. In January 2024, preparations began for the launch of Kamenskysllc, a company dedicated to providing top-notch services and entertainment for events of all sizes, treating clients, staff, and services with familial care. Our mission is to innovate in the events industry, support other businesses, and contribute to the community through charity work and event sponsorship.

We're excited to announce the recent launch of our website, kamenskysllc.com, a hub for event services and entertainment. My journey has been rich with experiences and cherished connections. I firmly believe in the power of perseverance and perfect timing. I'm immensely thankful for the chance to establish Kamenskysllc and to support businesses and services in their growth. Every day is a gift, and I'm grateful for the opportunity to make a positive impact through my company.

In the ever-evolving landscape of digital media and fashion, Courtney Huntzinger stands out as a beacon of innovation and creativity. A Philadelphia native, Courtney has made significant strides in the bustling city of Las Vegas, where she moved two years ago to better establish and expand her own venture, Panoptic Media Solutions. Courtney's educational background in fashion design set the stage for a career that began in the technical design of menswear. Her keen eye for detail and unique understanding of aesthetics allowed her to excel in the field, but it was her entrepreneurial spirit that steered her path toward branding, marketing and website development.

With a passion for bringing digital ideas to life, she founded PanopticMediaSolutions.com, a company dedicated to enhancing the online presence of businesses, artists, and agencies through web development and digital marketing. Her mission is clear: to create meaningful and conversion-driven digital solutions. Her clients include a wide variety of businesses, from small local companies to large corporation affiliates and brand new startups. She is also the webmaster for NFL Alumni Las Vegas.

Her journey didn't stop at digital development. Leveraging her fashion expertise, Courtney launched an independent e-commerce platform, Fly Earth Outfitters. The platform is a testament to her ability to integrate her love for design with her skills in digital media.

One of the standout features on FlyEarthOutfitters.com is the new SS24 line for Capodonna, with the swimwear showcased in our photo shoot. Cappadonna, meaning "female boss" in Italian, perfectly encapsulates Courtney's approach to fashion—empowering, modern, and uniquely tailored for working women who own their style. Her platform also features a diverse range of products aimed at entrepreneurs, Christian-themed merchandise, and thoughtful gifts, reflecting her broad appeal and inclusive vision.

Beyond her accomplishments in fashion and digital media, Courtney is embarking on a new creative journey as a recording artist. Her upcoming debut album, titled "Phoenix," symbolizes rebirth and resilience, themes that resonate deeply with her personal and professional life. Slated for release at the end of summer 2024, the album promises to introduce yet another facet of her multifaceted career.

"WHY I WORK BY REFERRAL ONLY IN REAL ESTATE & YOU CAN TOO"

The Power of Relational Referral-Based Marketing in Real Estate

As the recipient of several Real Estate top awards over the years, I am always asked how do you do it? Well, I have my secret I will share with you, our readers --that is the key to succeeding in any business.

There are 21,000 realtors in Las Vegas alone. It seems that everyone knows a real estate professional so how do you make yourself stand out from the crowd in any business? The best system that I have found year after year is working by referral only. Instead of having to cold call & knock-on doors, the working by referral system is a way to provide a consistent level of contact and care to the people in your database, leading to a steady stream of repeat business and referrals. The idea is that by investing in personal relationships, and also business to business relationships, you create advocates for your business, who in turn will refer you to their friends, family and associates.

Relational referral-based marketing is a fun and effective way to generate continual leads that will sustain your business for years to come in any industry. Working this way constantly cultivates relationships to produce a steady stream of referrals that compound year after year. Myself being a relational agent means that I build meaningful relationships with my real estate clients, whereas a transactional agent only focuses on the deal in front of them and does not invest time in building relationships, treats people like a commission check, and loses touch with clients once the transaction is done. I also generate leads with a proven system -- which is a must to have a "CRM," meaning customer relationship management software for your "SOI," sphere of influence. I make sure to maintain consistent contact with my current and past clients, and stay in constant contact, whereas a transactional agent lacks a system for productive lead generation -- spending time and money on unsuccessful online leads. I also choose to focus on personal and professional growth, seek continual business training -- to keep my skill set sharp in this ever-changing Las Vegas real estate market, & track my performance and results year upon year.

Think of your database as the soil. Keep it healthy by continually adding new people and prioritizing them into A+, A, B or C categories, so that you spend most of your time cultivating relationships with your best advocates. When you provide excellent service and value to everyone in your database, you nourish these relationships. Sending a monthly item of value demonstrates your competence and shows you care.

I deepen my relationships with my advocates with handwritten personal notes, calls, my monthly free networking events and pop-by gifts. These simple activities strengthen relationships and friendships and make it easy for me to ask for referrals. When you work by referral only with a relational marketing strategy, you have a proven system to nurture and deepen each relationship, so your past and current clients become your best advocates.
